

25X1X6

In early January conversations with [redacted]

25X1X6

Pravda's Paris correspondent and two TASS reporters emphasized the necessity of an Eisenhower-Stalin meeting. They pointed out the need for secrecy in the preparations, [redacted]

25X6A

[redacted] 25X6A

25X1X6

[redacted] commented that the Pravda correspondent apparently expected the views to be passed on to the United States Government.

25X1A6a

Comment: Soviet UN delegate Zorin, referring to the Reston letter to Stalin as "obviously inspired" and as mentioning a "new approach" to peace in Korea, recently stated that the Soviet Government would be interested in learning what the United States had in mind. Other Communist officials have hinted indirectly at the importance of Stalin's indication that he would welcome a meeting with Eisenhower.

~~SECRET~~

(17 Jan 53, ~~SECRET~~)

Security Information

29 Jan 53

1. Introduction:

Estimates — two phases
heard rem. int. not being used.

1. A E

2. Estimates —

Sov union military

Economic

Leaderships

China - military

3. Two year Estimate

4 - ad libed on Stalin America

5 - Ended up by "Est

how those estimates

set.

Perosee

Soviet Officials show interest in Eisenhower-Stalin meeting:

25X1X6

During the first two weeks of January, three Soviet newspapermen underlined [REDACTED] the need for an Eisenhower-Stalin meeting [REDACTED]

25X6A

[REDACTED] A Soviet diplomat at the UN stressed his government's interest in ascertaining just what the United States meant by Reston's "new approach" to the Korean problem.

[REDACTED] Soviet Ambassador Zarubin has been going out of his way to draw attention to Stalin's answers as the fourth suggestion the Soviet Government had made to achieve a Korean peace. There was no hint, however, either by the spokesmen or in Soviet propaganda that the Kremlin had in mind new terms on which negotiations could be reopened.

25X1D1a
25X1D1a

~~TOP SECRET CANOE~~
SECURITY INFORMATION